Community Update by Charlie McClendon City Manager

As you may be aware, there are an unprecedented 17 state measures on the November 8 ballot. In addition to the items at the national and statewide level, this is also Cathedral City's regularly scheduled municipal election. Local elections include the Cathedral City Council races as well as Measures HH and P.

If enacted, Measure P simply adjusts a previously voter approved ordinance to include medical cannabis businesses that did not exist when voters first approved the measure, and factors in other cannabis industry changes anticipated as a result of a State measure on the November ballot.

Measure HH does not create any new taxes but would allow Cathedral City to enact a local charter, or constitution –giving residents a greater voice in our local government and an opportunity to reform how government works, on issues such as municipal elections procedures, contracts with vendors and enhanced accountability and transparency in local government, among other items.

For more information about Measures HH and P, visit www.cathedralcity.gov
